

PRESENT BUSINESS CONDITIONS ARE DUE TO "STATE OF MIND"

This is the Opinion of Bankers, Agriculturists and Economic Students in the Many States—Say That Markets Are no Longer Honestly Competitive—Less Legislation

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 8.—The condition of business in the United States is basically sound, and fear for the welfare of commercial America is due principally to a "state of mind"—a natural consequence of the war.

This is the gist of the results of a neconomic survey conducted by the Mississippi Valley association and announced tonight at the headquarters of the organization here. Out of 8,000 questionnaires sent to business men, bankers, agriculturists and economic students in the 27 states in the "valley," 3,000 replies were received.

The underlying thought in the answers is that the present business depression is caused by the "consequent and necessary deflation of the inflation," and the universal demand for lower living costs. This condition was augmented, numerous replies stated, by an era of extravagance in buying, without consideration for the future.

Many expressed the belief that wartime prices were too high which, when the natural reaction came, brought about a tendency to confine purchases to actual necessities, and thus created a doubt in business as to the future resulting in a general attitude on all sides of watchful waiting for price stabilization.

Lay Blame on Taxation.

Many asserted no additional system of credits is needed and but few laid the blame of business conditions to the present system of taxation and the so-called restriction of credits. Matters will right themselves as soon as conditions in Europe become settled, some said.

The markets are no longer honestly competitive," and that "a small degree of control by monopoly," has affected market conditions were assertions of certain respondents; while others declared market conditions were good and that a lot of "loose thinking" had resulted in the country becoming "rumor ridden."

Some emphasized that too much publicity had been given to depressing rumors. To the question "What additional system of credits should be inaugurated (if any) to release money when urgently needed in our agricultural and industrial centers?" Many replied that profits of the federal reserve board should be made available for farm credits and the establishment of long time credits to farmers.

Quite a few recommended establishment of more farm loan banks and the inauguration of a "finance corporation" along the lines of the foreign finance corporation, authorized under the Edge act, keeping rates of interest below seven percent and enactment of farm tenancy laws to encourage persons to agricultural pursuits were recommended.

A general opinion expressed was the less legislation regarding business the better.

Industrial Revival is Noted in Detroit

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 8.—A beginning of industrial revival in Detroit was noted during the past week in a survey of conditions made today by George W. Grant, secretary of the Employers' association. Approximately 5,000 men have been put back to work and indications are that a gradual, but probably a slow improvement will continue until the automobile industry has reached its normal activity, Mr. Grant said. He added that manufacturers here generally expect the end of the slump in retail business to follow the annual automobile shows.

Alleged Wife Stealer Arrested

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—Piero Pauli, author and Mrs. Philip Franzen, who eloped from Madison, Wis., last Tuesday, were brought back to Chicago today from St. Louis, where they were arrested when it became known that there was a warrant for Pauli, charging him with abandonment of his wife and baby at Highland Park, Illinois, and another charging larceny of $100, from Mrs. Franzen's husband in Madison. He was released late tonight, however, upon his own recognizance.

WOULD KEEP U. S. AMONG STRONGEST OF NAVAL POWERS

Necessary Until Disarmament Agreement is Reached

GENERAL FINANCES ALSO DISCUSSED

(By The Associated Press) MARION, Jan. 8.—A navy policy to keep the United States one of the strongest sea powers in the world until a binding disarmament agreement can be reached was discussed at a conference here today between President-elect Harding and Representative Butler of Pennsylvania, chairman of the house naval committee.

Afterward it was indicated that the final decision must await developments, the present attitude of Senator Harding pointed to a continuation during his administration of the fleet construction program now in progress. Coupled with this program however would be a material curtailment in the number of civilian employees of the navy department and various economies in the land stations under navy jurisdiction.

Mr. Harding long has favored an efficient navy as the first line of American defense and he is understood to feel that a big navy policy might be continued practically if steps are taken to curtail the strength of the army along the lines he approved yesterday in conference with Chairman Kahn of the house military committee.

He also favors strongly the reserve system for both army and navy and is understood to have indicated to Chairman Butler that an adequate naval reserve should be considered one of the requisites to national defense.

The whole question of the navy hinges however, on what progress may be found possible in the movement for a general reduction of armament throughout the world. Mr. Butler, who is inclined to place little faith in the proposal expects to develop his committee hearings beginning next week all the information available on the probable consequences of disarmament. This information he will turn over to Mr. Harding.

"I am determined to know," said the committee chairman in a statement tonight, "what the other nations of the world sincerely desire in the way of an agreement to limit armament and especially that of the sea."

Mr. Butler called Mr. Harding's attention to the provision of the naval appropriation bill of 1916, requesting the president to make a canvass of world sentiment in regard to disarmament. He recommended that the new administration take advantage of this authorization and seek an exchange of international opinion quite separate from the plan of an association of nations.

Another of President-elect Harding's callers today was Daniel G. Reid, New York manufacturer and financier who talked over the general financial situation and gave his opinion particularly on the problem of getting money systems back to a sound basis. Mr. Reid also held a long conference with Harry M. Dugger, Mr. Harding's close political adviser, and said in a statement that he expected greater financial stability to result from the policies of the next administration.

B. R. Inman, of Indianapolis, manager of the Indiana chamber of commerce presented to Senator Harding the results of a comprehensive study made by his organization into financial conditions generally. He advised that there be no attempts to remedy the situation by piecemeal measures, but that farmers, manufacturers and all other groups be prevailed upon to take their share of after-war depression rather than to try each for himself to secure whatever special protection he can. Late today the Ohio members of the electoral college came to Marion and paid a call of courtesy on Mr. Harding.

Necessity of immediate relief was given as the reason for denying the municipalities' request. Husband of Fasting Woman Tiring of Notoriety

NEWS HOUNDS ARE NOW ON TRAIL

(By The Associated Press) DANVILLE, Ill., Jan. 8.—Mrs. Ernest S. Harrington's fast which has now lasted forty-one days, in the effort to induce her husband to join her church is not her first protracted abstention from food, according to her husband. He said tonight she went without food for two weeks about one year ago and once previously she ate nothing for eight days.

Her second fast was for the purpose of attracting a buyer for their home.

"She prayed and fasted for fourteen days," said Mr. Harrington tonight, "but when no buyer appeared she quit. The fast did seem to cause any ill-effects, altho she lost considerable weight. If God told my wife to fast, as she claims, and if she is doing wrong by fasting as ministers have told her, then why doesn't He tell her to quit?"

Says He Has Heard No Voice.

"I have asked God to tell me if it would be right for me to join church and if by doing this He would save my wife's life. I have listened, but no voice has come to me."

He says he is "not a religious man," but prayed as a sort of experiment.

He said his wife weighed 210 pounds before the fast began and he estimated she has lost 75 pounds. She was reported tonight as growing visibly weaker. No visitors were allowed to see her today.

Mr. Harrington is tired of the notoriety he and his wife have attracted. Hundreds of curious people are visiting his store and newspapers and news gathering agencies are sending representatives in constantly increasing numbers.

S. T. Payne, supervisor of the Church of God, is expected to arrive Sunday and attempt to persuade Mrs. Harrington to end her fast. When asked what he expected from this experiment the husband tonight said:

"I don't know. If he can't she will be all out of luck, for no other person can influence her."

California led in gold production for the year with 692,619 ounces and Alaska was second with 330,034 ounces.

Montana was first in silver output totalling 13,583,164 ounces.

IRISH-AMERICANS CONNECTED WITH WAR ACTIVITIES

Appear in German-Sinn Fein Correspondence

TELLS OF LARGE MUNITIONS PURCHASE

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Jan. 8.—Correspondence which passed between the German embassy at Washington and the foreign office at Berlin in which the names of a number of Irish-Americans are mentioned to show active connection between leaders of the Sinn Fein and the German government during the war was issued by the government today in the form of a "white paper."

After the arrival of Sir Roger Casement in Berlin in 1914 he sent messages thru the foreign office in Berlin and the German embassy at Washington, according to these documents to Judge Cohan, John Devoy and others regarding his mission to Germany. This it is declared, finally led Count von Bernstorff, then German ambassador to the United States to send to the foreign office in February 1916 a despatch surreptitiously attached to a message concerning the Lusitania, saying that Devoy had informed him of the risings to be given in Ireland Easter Sunday and asking that arms be sent to Limerick Good Friday or Easter Saturday.

This was followed by correspondents arranging details of the assistance the Germans were to give.

The "white paper" makes reference to pamphlets on the subjects of Ireland and Germany, freedom of the press and others in the publication of which, Kuno Meyer, then professor of Celtic languages at Liverpool and Sir Roger Casement collaborated, and which were widely circulated in Germany and America in 1911-12.

On December 14, the "white paper" indicates, the German embassy at Washington sent the following message to Sir Roger:

"There have been purchased for India 11,000 rifles and 4,000,000 cartridges. Devoy does not think it possible to ship them to Ireland. I am trying to buy rifles for Turkey in South America."

Other correspondence contained in the paper says that the Rev. J. T. Nicholson, of Philadelphia, "is read to start for Germany," and that Joseph McGarrity of Philadelphia, J. P. Keating of Chicago and Jeremiah O'Leary of New York "can give particulars regarding persons suitable for carrying out sabotage in the United States and Canada."

RED CROSS WILL CARRY ON WORK

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—The American Red Cross executive committee has appropriated $5,000,000 from the society's reserve fund to carry out its program of furnishing desperately needed medical assistance for children in Europe.

Nearly twenty child relief units of the American Red Cross are already in the field. Dr. Farrand said, most of them in Poland and ultimately there will be at least a hundred.

Plans for the work embraced the Baltic States and to a certain extent Austria and Hungary, as well as Poland and adjacent countries and Jugoslavia.

ALL IN READINESS FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION OF ILLINOIS FIREMEN

Will Convene Here January 11, 12 and 13—Local Committees Have Made Elaborate Arrangements for Entertainment—History Given of the State Association

All is in readiness for the thirty-sixth annual convention of the Illinois Firemen's Association which convenes for a three days session in this city Tuesday.

Local committees have been working hard and elaborate plans have been completed for the entertainment of the visitors. Chief Hunt is a busy man these days and his men also are busy and when the delegates visit the local fire station they will see one of the cleanest stations in the state.

Many firms dealing in the fire fighting apparatus will have displays here. Chief Hunt received a letter yesterday announcing that O. J. Chiles and Co. of Chicago, would have an electric siren here for display. It is probable that the local department will purchase the siren.

They will also display a Leo Triple combination chemical and hose wagon.

The representative of the company will arrive here Tuesday.

The big pumping engine is already here and will be stationed at the Zahn garage. This pump will give exhibitions during the sessions for the benefit of the visiting delegates.

Hereunder will be found a brief resume of the founding of the state association. This tells the story of the body thru the many years of its existence and of the officers who have served it. The present presiding officer Walter E. Price of Champaign, was for many years the secretary of the association. The history follows:

A modern history of Illinois without the Illinois Firemen's Association would, indeed, be like Hamlet with Hamlet left out. It is a part of the history of Illinois, and a most conspicuous part of this renaissance period of this article. To write the Association's history and enumerate its steps from obscurity as its present shining place in the world's great career of engineering, would require a volume. Therefore, this article will be but an outline.

In 1888 Thomas L. Blackburn, the young and brilliant chief of the Lincoln department promoted a firemen's tournament at his home town. At this tournament teams from Matteson, Clinton, Effingham, Pontiac, Champaign, Delavan and Mt. Pulaski attended.

After the tournament Chief Blackburn called a meeting and explained the idea of a state firemen's association. After some discussion on motion of J. E. Moffet of Clinton, made a motion seconded by Walter E. Price of Champaign, that the city of Clinton be selected as a place to meet and if possible, form a state organization. The date finally selected was January 8, 1889. Clinton thus became the birthplace and Lincoln and Champaign the God parents and sponsors of the young Association. Moffet, the man who made the motion, has passed to the land of his fathers, while Price, the man who seconded the motion, is the present president of the association.

First Officers.

At the first convention, J. W. Henshaw, of Peru, was elected president and T. L. Blackburn, of Lincoln, became secretary and C. W. Few of Delavan, was elected treasurer. The vice-presidents elected were as follows: Henry Vogt, Effingham; J. H. Hopkins, Mt. Pulaski; Samuel Harrison, Evanston; S. M. Koenig, Trenton; F. S. Powers, Clinton; George Redburn, Matteson; Walter E. Price, Champaign; and E. W. Brackmann, Polo.

Blackburn, Few, Vogt, Hopkins, Powers and Harrison are now deceased. Brackmann now a resident of Decatur, is a delegate in attendance at the present convention.

The first tournament of the association was held at Clinton and the same began on the 24th of September and closing on the 25th 1889. The second convention met at Lincoln in January, 1890. E. W. Brackmann of Polo, was selected as president, and T. L. Blackburn of Lincoln, as secretary.

Reduction is Made in Navy's Personnel

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Reduction in the navy's enlisted personnel from an average strength of 120,000 to 100,000 is the basis on which the house subcommittee on appropriations will work in framing the navy appropriation bill for the fiscal year 1922.

Chairman Keifer, of the subcommittee explained today that by this plan boys in the service would be weeded out, and the navy put on a regular man footing. There will be no attempt, he said, to cut down the number of officers.

"What we propose to do and in this I think we will have strong support in the house," he added, "is to keep the commissioned personnel intact, ships in good repair and in A-1 shape for protection. The boys in the navy want to get out and we can let them go now that men are ready and anxious to enlist. One man is worth two boys. We want to make it a man's, not a boy's navy."

It is the purpose of the committee to continue construction at the present speed, Mr. Keifer said. The naval appropriations past year was around $132,000,000 and he indicated that the new bill would run under that figure probably around $400,000,000.

Hearings will begin Monday with Admiral Coad, chief of operations, as the first witness.

A lad in a southern Illinois county walked 50 miles one day in order to make certain to file his application for enlistment in the army. Perhaps his unusual zeal was occasioned by the fear that the proposed reduction of the army force to 150,000 would put an end to recruiting.

Congressman Madden is thoroughly of the opinion that there is no use spending millions for aerial mail service unless there is some military advantage in the training given to the airmen. Probably the Illinois congressman takes the view that the expense is far too great for air delivery, especially when there are such fine opportunities for bettering the mail service along the ordinary lines of transportation.

Farmers have in their hands the possibility of great strength thru co-operative effort. But there is danger also in this weapon. Co-operative effort will bring results only as farmers learn the necessity of minimizing slight differences of opinion and as they attack problems in a practical way without undertaking more than they can adequately do or finance.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

The Law's Delay. Near San Francisco, recently, three delegates were lynched; they were in jail, their weird to drear, for crimes revoltingly pinched. And masked men came, perhaps three score, as grim as doom or fate, and strung them to a sycamore, which groaned beneath their weight. And law abiding people then sent up an angry cry; it was a shame that untried men should thus unhurried die. And I forsook my divers tasks to rant around and rail, to say those brutal men in masks should all be looked in jail. "No man should feel the halter draw, except by court's decree," I sternly cried; "we have our law, and it should honor him. Whereat a most sardonic skate, who stood at my right hand remarked, "The people would not wait to see those monsters cuffed. And so the stars above us saw a scene of death and woe; the people weary of the law, it is so beastly slow. A fender tried and tried again, and tried another time, until the weary sons of men forgot his ancient crime. And if at last some prison grim could hide his sudden form, some governor will pardon him before his bunk is warm. Or, through some writ that has a flaw, to fresh crimes he may go; the people weary of the law, it is so slow." I looked with scorn upon the gink who talked in such a way; I looked with scorn, but couldn't think of anything to say.

BILL TO CONSTRUCT WILL HAS BEEN FILED

Executors of Rolf Estate Desire Court Instruction Before Making Distribution of Funds.

A bill to provide for construction of the will of the late Henry Rolf has been filed in the office of Circuit Clerk Wanamaker by Edward P. Brockhouse, as attorney for John and Gustav Onken, executors of the will. The defendants named are John Rolf, Timon Muntman Dena Schroeder, Etta Russwinkle, Henry Rolf, George Rolf, Annie Nash and Franz Rolf.

The bill sets forth that Henry Rolf died Aug. 8, 1920, leaving a will dated Aug. 8, 1919, which was admitted to probate Nov. 23. It is shown that the second paragraph of the will the testator directed that certain lands be sold to one or more of the children of his deceased brother John Rolf, and pursuant to the terms of this paragraph the executors sold certain lands to George Rolf for $10,000 and certain lands to Annie Nash for $4,000.

In addition to the proceeds of this sale, the executors have personal property and after the payment of all debts and claims, a balance will remain in their hands.

A provision of the will is that the money remaining after the payment of debts is to be divided among the nephews and nieces of the testator, the children of Charles and Daniel Rolf. It is stated that the testator never had a brother named Charles Rolf, and that there never have been any persons who answered to the description of children of Charles Rolf. It is further set forth that at the time of the will the testator did have certain nephews and nieces who were the children of John Rolf and also Franz Rolf, the son of a deceased brother, Daniel Rolf.

Further the executors go on to show that the children of John Rolf maintain that the name Charles appeared in the will thru inadvertence on the part of the person who drew the will and that the intent of the testator was to provide for the distribution of funds remaining after the payment of debts, between the children of John and Daniel Rolf.

It is for this reason that the executors have brought this bill of complaint so that the court may determine what are the respective rights of the parties interested.

WITH DOROTHY PHILLIPS Robert Anderson, called the Greatest Dane Since Hamlet, reports Dorothy Phillips in the "universal star's" epochal success, "Once to Every Woman," he was born in Odense, Denmark, and began his dramatic career on the speaking stage there and in other European countries. Four and a half years ago he came to America and immediately blazed a trail across the screen that is the envy of hundreds of aspiring young photoplayers.

A sympathetic understanding of the complex nature of what is generally known as a "boob" has enabled Anderson to depict the role of a rural Romeo with delightful realism. His first big part of that kind was with D. W. Griffith in "Hearts of the World," in which production he depicted the laughable role of "Monsieur Oncken." His first work in a photodrama in which Miss Phillips starred was in "The Heart of Humanity," Allen Holubar's masterful Universal war-drama.

So capable was Anderson's portrayal of the role of "Paul" in that production that he was again summoned to Universal City when Allen Holubar began production on "Once to Every Woman." This picture will be shown at Luttrell's theatre Monday and Tuesday.

CULLY FARM LAND

SOLD AT AUCTION

A partition sale of farm land belonging to Thomas B. Cully was held at the court house Saturday by Henry W. English as master in chancery. One hundred and sixty-nine acres of land located five miles northwest of the city in the Joy Prairie neighborhood was sold to Mrs. Emelin D. Cully at $225 per acre.

George Kennedy purchased a 20 acre tract of timber land at $30 per acre. The attorney for the complainant was Wilson & Butler and Edward P. Brockhouse was the guardian for minors or defendants. The farm land is of excellent quality and the price paid probably does not represent its full value, even with land conditions somewhat depressed.

MURRAYVILLE MAN DIED VERY SUDDENLY

Death From Heart Disease Came to Albert Riggs While Waiting at Railway Station in This City

Death came suddenly at 6:20 o'clock Saturday morning to Albert Riggs at the Chicago & Alton station in this city. Mr. Riggs, who was 68 years of age, had been for years a prominent resident of Murrayville and was at the station to go to his home town when he suffered the attack of heart disease that quickly resulted in his death. Mr. Riggs had spent the night at the home of his son, Charles Riggs, in this city and he had not been feeling very well Friday, seemed to be in about his usual state of health. A physician summoned to the station found life extinct and the body was removed to the Gillham Funeral Home where Coroner Rose conducted an inquest Saturday afternoon.

The testimony showed that death was due to valvular disease of the heart.

The decedent was born in New York city in 1850, and came with his parents to Illinois sixty years ago. He was united in marriage with Leona Still of Godfrey, Ill., who survives, together with the following sons and daughters:

Walter Riggs, Murrayville; Herbert Riggs, Murrayville; County Clerk George L. Riggs, Jacksonville; Mrs. Ida Kinner, Perry, Ill.; Mrs. Sadie Millon, Murrayville; Mrs. Clara Kinner, Murrayville; and Charles V. Riggs, Jacksonville. Surviving also are three sisters, Mrs. Mary Walters of Alton; Mary and Priscilla Riggs of Aurora, Ill.

For many years Mr. Riggs had been resident in Murrayville or in the country near that town, and he had the confidence and esteem of all who knew him. For years he had been member of the Methodist church and his habits of life were such as make for a good name and the respect of the community. He held a membership in the Modern Woodmen of America. Always a Republican, Mr. Riggs was active thru the years in party affairs and had held several offices of public nature in Murrayville. His sudden death has brought great sorrow to the family and at this time they will have the sympathy of their many friends.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist church in Murrayville and interment will be in the cemetery there.

PROMINENT KANSAS CITY MAN BELIEVED KILLED BY BANDITS

Was Found Dead in Yard With Bullet Thru Head

BODY IS FOUND BY MILKMAN

(By The Associated Press) KANSAS CITY, Jan. 8.—O. C. Dodge, vice-president of the Midland Life Insurance company and long prominent in business life here who was found dead in his yard early today with a bullet hole thru his head was another victim of the city's crime wave, officials said, after investigating the case.

Police officials and the coroner expressed the belief that Mr. Dodge had been shot to death by robbers who attempted to break into the Dodge home. Mr. Dodge's body was found by a milkman early today in the driveway at his home, clad in a night shirt and overcoat and slippers. His revolver hammer cocked and with shells unexploded lay some distance from where Mr. Dodge fell. Within two feet of his right hand lay another revolver with one empty cartridge.

Detectives hope that identification of the owner of the latter revolver may lead to clearing up the case. It did not belong to Mr. Dodge, members of his family said.

JAP QUESTION FACING BRAZIL
RIO DES JANEIRO.—By The Associated Press. — Concession by the Minas Geraes state government of certain favors to a Japanese company which proposes to settle 200 or more Japanese families on 250,000 acres of land and employ them in silk making has again raised a discussion in the press of this city as to the advantages and disadvantages of Japanese immigration morals and its inability to coalesce with other strains.

On one hand it is urged that the country is short of labor and must take what it can get, that in any case precautions could be taken by which the inflow of immigrants could be stopped if at the end of a few years it was proving dangerous. On the other hand, there is an objection to would be prejudicial to Brazilian physique which had already suffered from the multiplicity of living, its different standard, of races coming into the country.

Blackburn of Lincoln, again as secretary with C. W. Few of Delevan, treasurer.
Lincoln, Canton, Peoria and Mendota, were eager candidates for the tournament of '90. Mendota was selected as the tournament city after a hot fight. The Mendota tournament held in July, 1890, was an eventful one, showing the popularity of the sports of firemen.

Statistician Will Speak.
The third convention was held at Edwardsville in January, 1891. At this convention the office of statistician was created and Prof. B. F. Staymates of Clinton was selected for this position. Under the executive ability of Prof. Staymates this office was made one of the important ones of the association and his reputation as a collector of statistics is world wide. Prof. Staymates will be present at this convention and will address the gathering on the afternoon of Jan. 12th. He is an orator of great ability and the public in general is invited to attend the convention and hear him.
The 1891 tournament was held at Lincoln on Aug. 4, 5, 6. In speaking of this tournament Prof. Staymates in his history of the Illinois Firemen's Association, says: "These perpetual championships have been the life of the athletic wing of the Association; and the images of the firemen athletes, Abbott, Booth, Beaver, Clark, Bortolotto, Crockett, Woodruff and others should in marble or brass greet the eyes of future generations as the founders of a system of athletics the noblest of the art."

M. J. Myers of Mt. Pulaski, was elected treasurer in 1892. He is a delegate in attendance at this convention and as active a booster as ever for the association. The 1892 tournament at Ottawa, was not well attended save by a large number of teams from the entire length of the state. The 1893 convention was held at Collins.

The sixth annual convention was held at Effingham January 9th and 10th, '94. At this convention a legislative committee was appointed consisting of C. C. Chain, Bushnell, W. H. Shaw, Canton and H. B. Hatch, Lincoln. Through the efforts of this committee the present two per cent. insurance tax was passed by the state legislature. At Effingham, J. E. Moffett of Clinton, was elected president; G. W. Stokoe, Bushnell, secretary, and M. J. Myers, of Mt. Pulaski, was re-elected treasurer.

Edwardsville secured the 1894 tournament and the same was held on July 28, 29 and 30, 1894. The record for single days attendance was broken hereover 10,000 people passing through the gates on the second day of the meet.
At the seventh convention held at Sterling, J. E. Moffett was re-elected president, and E. W. Barkman, secretary, and Myers again treasurer. The 1895 tournament was held at Decatur. A large increase in membership was followed by an army of teams and athletes.

Peru entertained the eighth convention in January, 1896, with a very full attendance. At this convention M. J. Myers, of Mt. Pulaski, was elected president; E. W. Barkman, of Decatur, secretary, and Clarence Buck, of Monmouth, treasurer. Fireman Buck is now Senator Buck and was campaign manager for Medill McCormack during the latter's last campaign for the United States Senate. At the convention held at East St. Louis in 1897, M. J. Myers was re-elected president as well as E. W. Barkman again secretary and Clarence Buck, treasurer. The 1897 tournament was held at Monmouth.

Champaign entertained the tenth convention. Here O. D. Wilcox, of Monmouth, succeeded Myers as president, and E. W. Barkman again secretary, with Clarence Buck, of Monmouth, treasurer. The 1898 tournament was again held at Decatur.
Clinton had the 1899 convention, while the 1899 tournament was awarded to Pekin. At Clinton W. E. Price, the present president succeeded E. W. Barkman as secretary, while O. D. Wilcox was re-elected president.

The 1900 convention went to Princeton and at this place Chas. C. Chain of Bushnell, was elected president. The 1900 tournament was held at La Salle, Illinois.

The 1901 convention was held at Pana and was called to order by President Chain on Jan. 11th.

Chain was re-elected president. W. E. Price, treasurer, and M. T. Quirk of Arcola, treasurer, Dixon secured the 1901 tournament.

Edwardsville held the 1902 convention. C. C. Chain was re-elected president at this convention, defeating Dennis Hentz of Edwardsville, by a close vote. The 1902 tournament was held at Blue Island. Here the fame of Otto Sorgenfrei, as a promoter of tournaments, made itself known. Tournament held at World's Fair. Aurora secured the 1903 convention and here Frank B. Bolte of East St. Louis, was elected president; Walter E. Price, secretary, and M. T. Quirk, treasurer, and B. F. Staymates, statistician. The 1906 convention was held at Peoria. Geo. A. Detrick was re-elected president at this convention; W. E. Price, secretary; M. T. Quirk, treasurer, and Prof. B. F. Staymates, statistician.

Peter Kipley of Riverdale, was elected president of the Illinois Firemen's Association at the convention held at East St. Louis in January, 1907. Price, Quirk and Staymates were re-elected to their respective positions. Morris held the 1908 convention. President Peter Kipley was elected his own successor; Walter E. Price, of Champaign, was again chosen secretary, and M. T. Quirk, treasurer, and B. F. Staymates, statistician. During the years of 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909, tournaments were held at Peoria, Urbana, Keokuk, Lincoln and all were largely attended. The twenty-first convention was held at Clinton, Illinois, Jan. 13, 14, 15, 1908. N. T. Pierce of Xenia was elected president. He was re-elected at Granite City in 1910. H. J. Lohmann was elected president at Peru in 1910 and re-elected at Edwardsville in 1912.

Ottawa held the 1913 convention and at the latter place James J. Dougherty was elected president. The 1914 convention went to Canton and Dougherty was elected his own successor. The 1915 convention was held at Vandalia and at the latter place Otto Sorgenfrei was placed at the helm. He was re-elected at Murphysboro in 1916 and Bushnell in 1917. The 1918 convention was held at Joliet and at this convention Matt. Phillip of Chicago Heights, was elevated to the office of presiding officer. Philip was re-elected at Granite City in 1919. At the 1920 convention held at Murphysboro Walter E. Price relinquished his position as secretary of the association and was elected as president. Albert Herring of Murphysboro was elected as secretary and F. E. Danner of Mt. Pulaski was re-elected treasurer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Schedules for hearings on the proposed regulation of future transactions on exchanges in agricultural products by eliminating speculation, were announced today by the House agriculture committee. The hearings will close next Saturday when the committee will proceed to draft a measure to be reported to congress.

Representatives of the New Orleans Cotton Exchange will be heard Monday; Pacific Coast Cotton Exchange representatives and representatives of the Chicago Board of Trade Wednesday. South Dakota bankers representatives of Minnesota clearing house association and the St. Louis mercantile exchange will be heard Thursday.

Four bills are pending before the committee to eliminate speculation in future dealings on exchanges of farm products. Two purpose to bar future speculative transactions from interstate commerce and the other two would impose a prohibitive tax. Two of the measures deal specifically with future transactions in grain, and two with cotton.

Defenders of the present future exchanges have told the committee that elimination of all speculation would hamper business and be detrimental to the producers. Proponents of the regulatory measures have replied that exchanges were intended as the common meeting places of legitimate sellers and buyers of farm products, whereas the "speculators" has intruded himself and "manipulated" the market to the detriment of both the producers and consumers.

Speculative "short selling" has been particularly denounced before the committee.

Champaign Man Marries Bohemian Red Cross Nurse—Wrote to Her at Suggestion of Uncle.

(By The Associated Press)
CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Jan. 8.—A romance which had its beginning at a funeral here a year ago, was brought to a culmination here tonight when the marriage of Leo J. Just, postal clerk, and Miss Marie Zayleck, a Bohemian Red Cross nurse, and close friend of Dr. Alice Masorykova, head of the Russian Women's Battalion of Death.

The marriage was suggested a year ago when an uncle of the present groom visited America because of the death of the groom's mother. While here, the uncle told Just of the Bohemian Red Cross nurse, who had served on the Russian, Italian and Austrian fronts during some of the major engagements of the war. The uncle insisted that his nephew write the nurse immediately.

Correspondence between the two caused Miss Zayleck to come to America. She arrived here on December 23, for the purpose of meeting Just and the marriage followed.

SENATOR BELIEVES MAN LIKES WAR

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Senator Sterling of South Dakota today predicted that President-elect Harding would submit the Knox peace resolution to the senate immediately after his inauguration, to end the state of war between the United States and Germany at once. Addressing a luncheon here of the National Republican club, Senator Sterling said he foresaw, a new association of nations of the world assembled about the international court of justice of the present league of nations which Elihu Root recently had a hand in forming.

The senator speaking of mankind's inclination for war rather than peace, said he had noted a "certain Mr. Jack Dempsey" got $100,000 for a single prize fight here some time ago, whereas President Wilson received $10,000 in a Nobel peace prize for his peace efforts.

"Who wants to be a pacifist?" he concluded.

FOCH PRAISES U. S. COURSE IN WAR

Says Could Hope Only to Gain Moral Satisfaction — Troops Were at Disposition of Allies.

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, Jan. 8.—Marshal Foch retold the dramatic and picturesque events of the entrance of the United States into the war at a meeting of the "French-American Welfare" maintained here by the National Catholic Welfare Council today. He praised the American principle in joining the allies when from victory she could expect only moral satisfaction, any advancement of the United States' situation in the world was problematical.

Marshal Foch described the scene when General Pershing "came to my headquarters at Clermont de L'Oise to tell me in those dark days:

"We are at your disposition. I and my soldiers; you can make use of us to the utmost; throw us into the battle. In the same way from his headquarters in Versailles, General Bliss (then American chief of staff) said to me: 'We are here to aid you; dispose of us as you see fit.'"

O'DWYER TELLS OF UNREST IN INDIA

Is Taking Form of Government Boycotts—Must Quit Tying With Sedition and Enforce Laws Rigidity.

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, Jan. 8.—Sir Michael O'Dwyer, until recently governor of the important Punjab province of India, in an article in the Globe today, concerning the serious unrest in India which has taken the form of government boycotts, strikes and seditious utterances, declares:

"This much, at least, can be stated with certainty—that the present extremist movement is heading straight for the disorganization of trade and commerce for the ruin of every British interest, and for anarchy and rebellion."

Sir Michael asserts that the time for toying with sedition in this vast empire has long since passed and that if England would retain India the law must be rigorously and impartially enforced, irrespective of persons, caste or class.

"All those who are heading the revolutionary conspiracy—Gandhi, the Ali Brothers and Sagpat Rai, and others equally notorious and equally hostile to British rule—should be dealt with under the law before it is too late," Sir Michael says.

FARMERS IN EARNEST
ABOUT JOINT BUYING

Cooperation Plan Between Farm Bureau and Farmers Elevator Companies Is Under Consideration.

Farmers elevator companies in Morgan county will co-operate with the officers of the farm bureau in the co-operative buying and distribution of certain products. This was practically decided upon at a conference and dinner held at the Centenary M. E. church Saturday noon. Charles S. Black, president of the farm bureau, presided and there were brief talks by members of the executive council of the bureau and representatives of the elevator companies. It is particularly desired to handle seeds, limestone and phosphate in this way and there is the possibility that there may come the co-operative buying of farm machinery.

Not long since a meeting of farm bureau representatives of various counties was held in Springfield, when the question of the wholesale purchase and distribution of seed received particular attention. The plan was favored there of the establishment of either district or county seed warehouses. Several members of the Morgan County bureau attended that conference. The farm bureau council decided that the best plan would be for cooperative effort thru the bureau and the farmers elevators, and the conference Saturday was called with the end in view of arriving at some definite plan.

C. L. Hawker was the first speaker and told of the Springfield conference. Then he said that the farm bureau officers here believed that the bureau might be a sort of hub and the farmers elevators the spokes in a wheel, revolving in the way of co-operative business, especially for the sale of limestone, phosphate and seeds. C. H. Gibbs was the next speaker and said that he was a firm believer in co-operative effort and that the thing to do was to put aside any minor differences of opinion and to work as one organization for common ends. He said that he believed that thru co-operative buying that $30,000 a year might be saved the farmer.

William Arnold referred to some experiences in retail implementation business at Arnold and expressed the belief that the farm organization, acting in conjunction with the elevator companies, can readily handle a large co-operative business to the mutual advantage of all.

Thomas Cain talked along the same line, as did Lester Reed and Frank E. Drury.

Bureau as Clearing House.
 County Agent Kendall told of some experiences of the county bureau in the handling of several car loads of potatoes and in shipments of oats and clover. He said that manifestly the bureau should not come into competition with the farmers elevators and that he firmly believed a practical plan could be worked out whereby the bureau may become the essential purchasing agency and allotments made to the farmers elevators in accordance with their needs.

It is the thought that purchases in large quantities can of course be made at a less figure than for smaller amounts. The county agent also thought that something should be done in this same line with reference to implements that farmers should go as slow as possible in buying implements.

After F. E. Drury made a motion for the appointment of a committee made up of the bureau executive council and the presidents and secretaries of farmers elevator companies, it was amended to provide for one representative from each farmers elevator company to unite with the council in working out a concrete plan for presentation to the elevator companies.

Elevator Men Spoke.
 Among those who spoke in behalf of elevator concerns were Messrs. Fuller, of Murrayville; Murray, of Litterberry; Bender of Orleans; Henn, of Alexander; Whalen, of Rees; Hagan, of Woodson; Jewsbury, of Merritt; Dunlap, of Litterberry; Barrows, of Pisgah.

A. C. Rice who was instrumental in organizing most of the farmers elevators in the county, expressed himself as in favor of a co-operative plan but warned that the matter of co-operative buying on an extensive scale must have the proper financial backing, and that the plan must be worked out carefully before proceeding with it.

At the conclusion of the discussion to prepare for the general plans proposed was approved by unanimous vote. Directors of a number of elevator companies met immediately and selected representatives who are to confer with the farm bureau board.

1921 INCOME TAX FACTS
YOU SHOULD KNOW

What was your income for 1920?

An answer to this question is required by the government of every single person (man, woman, or child) in the United States whose net income for last year was $1,000 or more, and of every married person whose net income was $2,000 or more. Heavy penalties are provided by the revenue act for those who fail or "willfully refuse" to comply.

The period for filing returns for the calendar year 1920 is from January 1 to March 15, 1921. The Bureau of Internal Revenue estimates that within this period there will be filed 4,000,000 individual income tax returns. It is certain a percentage of these returns will be incorrect, not because of dishonest intent on the part of the taxpayer, but because of error in making out the forms. Erroneous interpretation of the law and regulations governing the collection of the income tax and carelessness cause numerous mistakes, and result in the initial assessment and collection of considerably greater or lesser amounts than are actually due. Frequently these mistakes result in overpayment, return of which is made upon a claim for refund. Where, upon verification and audit, underpayments are shown, taxpayers as a rule are prepared promptly to amend their returns and pay the additional tax due. In either event, there is trouble for both the taxpayer and the government.

Bureau Aids Taxpayers.
 To the end that this year such errors may be reduced to a minimum, the Bureau of Internal Revenue is making special effort to inform taxpayers of their rights and duties under the new act as interpreted by rulings and regulations of the Treasury Department.

There has been prepared with the official approval of the bureau a series of short articles, of which this is the first, telling the taxpayer how to make out his 1920 return, when and where to file it, and what to do in the event he meets with unusual difficulties. Errors most frequently noted in the audit of previous returns have been divided into classes, each of which will be treated in an informative way. While there is no actual change in the law, there have been issued during the last year many rulings and decisions bearing on its various sections, all of which are of benefit to the taxpayer in the making of a correct return.

1921 Exemptions.
 The exemptions for 1920 are $1,000 for single persons, $2,000 for married persons and heads of families, plus $200 for each dependent if under 18 years of age or incapable of self support. The normal rate is 4 per cent on the first $4,000 of net income above the exemptions and 8 per cent on the remaining net income. This applies to every citizen and resident of the United States. Alien nonresidents receiving income from sources within the United States are taxed to the full 8 per cent on net income from such sources. The surtax rates range from 1 per cent on income between $5,000 and $6,000 to 65 per cent on income in excess of $1,000,000. "Net income" is gross income less certain specified deductions.

May Pay in Installments.
 The tax this year as last, may be paid in full at the time of filing the return, or in four equal installments, due on or before March 15, June 15, September 15, and December 15. The first installment must accompany the filing of the return. Forms 1040A for incomes of more than $5,000 have been revised and contain instructions which if carefully read and followed will be of great aid to taxpayers in the making of returns.

Forms will be sent to persons who last year filed returns of 1919 income. Failure to receive a form, however, does not relieve a person of his obligation to file a return and pay the tax on time. Copies may be obtained from offices of collectors of internal revenues, branch offices, and banks. The return, sworn to before a notary or other person authorized to administer oaths, must be filed with the collector for the district in which the taxpayer lives or has his principal place of business.

NORTHMINSTER CHURCH

Service Saturday Night Given Over to Children—"Do Right" Chorus in Song Service—Today's Services.

There was a large attendance at Northminster church last night, but the audience was largely made up of children. The service was given over to the "Do Right" chorus recently organized at the church, and their service of song was well worth hearing. The children are being trained by Mr. Seniff and altho they have met but a few times, already show the influence of his direction. Last night the boys and girls also gave a drill on Bible chapters which was well done. Mr. Seniff sang a solo "I walked and talked with the King."

It was announced that at the morning service today Dr. Spoonst will deliver a sermon on the theme, "The Old Time Religion." This evening the young people's meeting will be in charge of Mr. Seniff. At 7:30 o'clock Dr. Spoonst will talk on, "The Big Fuss in Jacksonville," and has promised to discuss in a thoro way the problems which now confront this city. Next Wednesday night Dr. Spoonst will give his sermon "From Cattle Ranch to Pulpit."

Saturday night Dr. Spoonst based his sermon on the opportunities of the present. He said in part: "You cannot change your past but you can determine your future. What are you doing now? All our future life and happiness depends on what we do now. Our future sadness and joy depend upon how we treat the present. Some are spending the time now in laying up money, and while that is not a sin it is not worth the price that many pay for it. We are living in a commercial age, and judge people by what they have not by what they are."

"Some are spending their present in the pursuit of pleasure without even a thought for their soul's salvation. What is the condition of your soul? That is the most important question that confronts you today. The Christian does not have to sacrifice his religion looking for happiness. Happiness depends upon the state of your soul, your relation with the Christ."

Putting Our House in Order To Meet New Conditions

The J. C. PENNEY CO., Operating 312 Department Stores in 27 States, Will, on MONDAY, JANUARY 10th, Open Its Doors With Reconstruction Prices Prevailing—Every Price in Our Stores Is Based Upon Our Replacement Price, REGARDLESS OF PREVIOUS COST.

BELIEVING the time has arrived when a revision of prices is warranted by replacement value—having discounted our merchandise thousands of dollars in our inventory just completed—we therefore give to the public the full benefit of the loss we sustain.

Remember we have said Our Replacement Price which should prove doubly attractive. Buying for 312 stores doing a yearly business of approximately Fifty Million Dollars should be sufficient proof that our replacement price is substantially lower than that of our competitors.

Do not confuse this with the usual mark up and mark down special sale commonly held by other merchants. The J. C. Penney Company never has, nor does it now believe in special sales. Remember every article will remain as priced until sold or forced by market conditions to change.

Many items are limited in quantity, many may prove under-priced—hence delay to purchase may result in disappointment. Come expecting to find every item in our store bearing its proper reduction. We stake our reputation that you will not be disappointed.

NEW CITIZENSHIP THEME OF SPEAKER

Mrs. Gelhorn Makes Interesting Address Before Women's Club—Outlines Responsibilities That Have Come to Woman Through Suffrage.

The Jacksonville Women's club held its regular monthly meeting Saturday afternoon at the Odd Fellows temple in East State street.

After the meeting was called to order by Mrs. O. F. Buffe, the President Miss Annie Moore, was introduced and accompanied by Miss Esther Duncanson, charmingly sang three songs, "Mary," by Richardson; "I'm Wearing a Wa' by Foote and "When I was one and twenty."

The chairman then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. George Gelhorn, vice-chairman of the League of Women Voters of the United States and chairman of the Missouri league. Mrs. Gelhorn is an ardent and successful worker among women voters and her splendid address, proved a great help and inspiration to each woman in the large audience which gathered to hear her.

Mrs. Gelhorn brought out the fact that Woman's Citizenship lays a great responsibility on each American woman and in order to fully meet this responsibility everyone should be familiar with our national and state laws. The movement on foot all over the country is that of establishing citizenship schools, where women may learn the things which will make them efficient citizens.

Mrs. Gelhorn brought out the fact that Woman's Citizenship lays a great responsibility on each American woman and in order to fully meet this responsibility everyone should be familiar with our national and state laws. The movement on foot all over the country is that of establishing citizenship schools, where women may learn the things which will make them efficient citizens.

Wants Citizenship School. The speaker urged that such a school be organized in Jacksonville so that local women may have the opportunity that is being given to so many other women in the various states. The league in this state is led by Mrs. H. W. Cheney of Chicago, and it is the plan to have a normal school for citizenship teachers who will turn the same out to the various communities in the state.

Mrs. Gelhorn also emphasized the importance of motherhood and woman's place in the home. However, motherhood is widening and broadening until now it practically extends to every part of the world. In the present day it is not enough for a woman to care for her own children.

If a child in her community or in another part of the world needs care it is the privilege and duty of American motherhood to stretch out its hand to help. To exemplify our faith in Democracy American women must take its responsibility.

Women Are Non-Partisan. The League of Women Voters stands for non-partisan American women are for clean issues and for the right men, regardless of their party. Mrs. Gelhorn urged that women keep in touch with the men they elect and see that they accomplish the things they are elected to do. The high ideals that the speaker brought before the women were so enthusiastically received that it seems very probable that a citizenship school will be organized in Jacksonville in the near future.

Mrs. W. S. Jones is the chairman of the civic department of the club, instrumental in bringing Mrs. Gelhorn here. The social hour was under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ben Lorton, assisted by Mesdames W. B. Rogers, M. E. Fitch, John Cain, George Baxter, W. D. Roberts, Samuel Black, John R. Davis, Nelson McMurphy, and H. L. Griswold.

However, Mr. Ledford demonstrated that Jacksonville has some fine birds by walking off with several prizes. He won two firsts, two specials, two seconds, and one fourth and one fifth.

Mr. Ledford speaking of the show Saturday evening said he never saw a better display of birds. Many were sold at the show and some brought as high as $150. Mrs. Louisa White, of Washington, a breeder of White Rocks sold $400 worth of chickens in one day.

ILLINOIS COLLEGE DEFEATS SHURTLEFF

Blue and White Win an Exciting Game from Alton Team By Score of 39 to 28—Game at End of First Half 16 to 15 in Favor of Illinois.

Coach Harmon's Illinois College basketball squad started its 1921 season in a most auspicious manner Saturday night when it defeated Shurtleff by a score of 39 to 28.

Illinois had had only five nights of practice whereas Shurtleff had played several games. However, Illinois showed remarkable form for her first game and played fast and furious.

The first half was full of excitement with the teams running neck and neck. When the half ended Illinois was to the good by the narrow margin of one point, the score being 16 to 15 in her favor.

It was the same way through most of the second half. During the last five minutes of play Illinois by some excellent floor work and accurate shooting forged to the front and put the game on ice. Shurtleff never stopped trying and way always dangerous until the last whistle.

For Illinois Antrobus was the main point scorer. However, Harney did some pretty work in the closing minutes of play and Cully retrieved a shot off of the board and tossed one of the prettiest baskets of the evening.

Near the close of the game Coach Harmon sent Brown in to take Mellon's place as the big fellow was tiring rapidly. Brown speeded up the play and slipped in two ringers himself. Wright also did some good offensive work. Cully, Jones and Randall played well at guard, Randall being compelled to retire because of an injured knee.

For Shurtleff Campbell, Carry, Wans, Crum and Winford scored the points. Crum's work was especially commendable and he won favor with local fans. The visitors had some excellent floor work and at times did some excellent basket shooting. Coach Mitchell of the high school refereed and his work was satisfactory. The score:

S. S. L. SEEKING DATA OF ALL SERVICE MEN

The Service Star Legion is going to publish Morgan County Honor Roll book, according to an announcement. The members of the Service Star Legion are busy engaged at the public library in collecting and assembling data for the official record.

They wish data concerning every man in Jacksonville and Morgan county who served in any capacity during the World war. Relatives of the men are asked to assist the Service Star Legion in securing this material. The men themselves can be of great aid in the work.

This is a huge undertaking, and without co-operation the women cannot well succeed in their plan. They have asked that publicity be given the work, and hope that every ex-soldier, sailor and marine will send material or call at the public library.

MUCH REFERENCE WORK. The Public Library is doing a great deal of reference work this winter, not only for Jacksonville but for the rural communities. The clubs of the country and smaller towns and the branch libraries phone in requests for material daily. Miss Clarke tries to co-operate as much as possible. There is, of course, a limit to the amount of work that can be done in as small a library as this one.

SPECIAL MEETING. A special meeting at Trinity Guild Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock to decide upon plans for the play to be given soon. A large attendance is desired.

The newly appointed official is a graduate of Illinois college and this was his home city for many years. His wife before her marriage was Miss Glenn, daughter of the late George Glenn.

Members of Matt Starr post G. A. R. and of the Woman's Relief Corps are to be entertained at an oyster supper next Friday, Jan. 14, at G. A. R. hall. At that time they will be the guests of Mrs. Charlotte Gray, who has planned the event in memory of her husband, the late Stephen B. Gray, for many years a well known resident of Jacksonville.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

Meeting at Waverly.
W. H. Crum and L. T. Potter accompanied the county agent to Waverly on Wednesday and assisted in the community meeting at that place. Mr. Crum gave his experience with soybeans in corn and advised all present to try it. Mr. Potter told those present how they could increase the size of their cream checks by getting better cows and handling them better. J. A. Brown and W. H. Rohrer, township chairmen are entitled to credit for the satisfactory way in which they arranged this meeting. O. A. Rohrer, another member of the executive committee of the Farm Bureau was present and contributed to the discussion. As a result of this meeting a large number of farmers expressed a willingness to use limestone and phosphate provided it could be stored locally. In all probability more soybeans will be shipped to Waverly than any other point in the county.

May Manufacture Blankets and Auto Robes.
Those in charge of the wool pool at Chicago are seriously considering the matter of manufacturing the pooled wool into blankets and auto robes and selling them back to the farmers.

Facts About the Roads.
In making the cross country trip to Waverly yesterday, we found that where the roads were well drained and oiled, the going was very good. From yesterday's observation a traveler was justified in concluding that drainage was as important as oiling. It will certainly be a forward step when those who construct roads realize the necessity of good drainage, proper grading, thorough oiling, and provide for their maintenance by an efficient patrol system. The farm bureaus in some counties are taking up the matter of the patrol system for most everything in the rural progress at the present time depends upon road improvement.

THREE WOMEN HOLD PUBLIC OFFICE.
Springfield, Ill.—By the A. P.—Three women in Illinois are holding offices as county officials according to lists being compiled by the secretary of state. They are:

Lelah Foster, Macon County Recorder of Deeds.
Carrie Hoyter, Hamilton County Circuit Clerk.
Frances E. Lanes, Kendall County Circuit Clerk.

Of these three Miss Foster of Decatur, the daughter of the late mayor and former sheriff of Macon county, has the added distinction of being the county's first person to hold the title of Recorder. Until the last election the county lacked the requisite number of inhabitants to have such an official. Miss Foster was elected without opposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Smith were city shoppers from Orleans yesterday.

U-BOAT SENT TO BOTTOM IN PACIFIC

Submarine Credited With Many War Time Depredations Sunk Near Los Angeles.

A. L. Hood, formerly one of the proprietors of the Peacock Inn is now in Los Angeles. He recently sent a Jacksonville friend a copy of the Examiner which tells the interesting story of how a German submarine with an unenviable record was destroyed with imposing ceremonies near the Los Angeles harbor. Mr. Hood had the pleasure of being one of the spectators at the obsequies of this submarine.

U-138, German undersea fighter, holder of the Iron Cross for "valorous sea duty," and one of the Kaiser's most vicious submerged weapons during the great world war, tonight will be resting in an unhonored grave at the bottom of the peaceful Pacific.

The submarine, officially credited with sinking sixteen allied merchantmen during the late conflict, will meet the same fate as her victims of the high seas. It will feel the sting of a three-inch defense battery without the security of being allowed to defend itself.

And it will be buried with the simplest ceremony. Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, the man who placed the American battle squadron before German ports, will watch the destruction from the bridge of his flagship, New Mexico. Admiral Twining, his chief of staff, and Rear Admiral Joseph L. Jayne, commander of the train fleet, will be at his side.

Destroyer for Executioner.
The procession will stand out from Los Angeles harbor at 1 p. m. today. The minesweeper Pocumoke will take the rusted hull of the submarine in tow and carry it to its fate. The battleship New Mexico, observing vessel, will follow closely in the wake. Bringing up the rear, her four funnels belching clouds of black smoke, the American destroyer Wicks, from San Diego. Silently the little fleet will steam to sea.

About five miles off Breakers, the great engines will stand fast. The Pocumoke, with her prisoner in tow, will lay off to windward and, at the order to get under way, will parade the German ship before the bar of justice. The slim-lined destroyer Wicks, her decks cleared for action, will maneuver into position. The range finder will give the position of the U-boat to the firing line. In an instant the three-inch battery will be unlimbered. Swiftly, deathlike and sure, the steel missiles will lay their course for their objective. There will be a thunderous crash—the Pocumoke will lose her lines from her prisoner, and the U-138 will settle down in her grave. The commander of the destroyer will make a notation in his log, recording the time, position and effect of the fire, returning without delay to his base at San Diego.

The New Mexico and Pocumoke will steam proudly back into the harbor.

Captured Near War's End.
The German boat was captured shortly before the armistice, while returning to a German port to replenish her torpedo tubes. She was interned and when the allied grab bag was opened at Scapa Flow and the spoils of war divided, she was wished on the American navy. Lieut. Commander Joe Nielson, former executive officer at the Submarine Base here, and an American naval crew were placed aboard and brought the craft to American waters.

Arriving on the East Coast during the Liberty loan drive, she was paraded before the American people to stimulate interest in the loan. After being exhibited all along the Atlantic seaboard and at Mississippi river points, she was ordered to this coast, under convoy of one of the navy's Eagle boats. She was moored to the submarine base more than a year ago to await action of the Allied high commission. The wishes of the commission will be carried out today.

Since the boat's arrival in the Pacific she has been the center of much interest among civilian engineers. Thousands of visitors have been shown thru the craft by the officers and men at the Submarine Base.

Altho made mostly of iron, due to the German scarcity of copper and brass, the boat was a model one in every detail. Rapidly, however, corrosion set in and the graceful lines of the water dog faded. The boat that answered roll call today is only a ghost of her former self.

SPRINGFIELD WILL HAVE SUBWAY

Springfield, Ill.—By the A. P.—With the completion of the new Centennial building adjacent to the state house here, Springfield will acquire a "subway."

The local "hoor" is part of the new heating system of the Centennial building. It is big enough to accommodate a horse and wagon and runs from the state house to the new building. Thru it heated air will be pumped. Heat is supplied to the house thru a tunnel from the power house across the street, but that "subway" is not nearly so large.

Northminster Presbyterian church—Walter E. Spooner, minister. Preaching at 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. by the pastor. The morning service will be evangelistic and the sermon will be on the subject, "The Old Line Religion." It is time that we were getting back to the fundamental doctrines of the Bible, we have too much style and fashion and too little real Bible religion. We need a religion that people can tell we have it without looking on the church records. The evening subject will be, "The Big Easy Religion." Some people think it strange that a preacher knows so much about the meanness going on in the city, but you must remember that he gets all you know, and also what the other fellow knows, he gets both sides. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. William Bieber, superintendent. Mr. Sniff will conduct a young people's meeting at 6:30 p. m. All the young people of the city are cordially invited to this service. The city is fortunate in having a man like Mr. Sniff for a while to work with the children and young people. It has been a long time since this city had a man in it that has impressed the children for good. He has. He has already touched at least one thousand children and will touch many more. You cannot afford to miss one of his solos. He has very few equals in singing the gospel in a way that it reaches the heart of his hearers. You are earnestly invited to all these meetings. "Come over and help us." Ask men to accept Christ and then let them join the church of their choice. We want them Christians first and church members second. A hearty welcome awaits you.

Brooklyn M. E. church—G. W. Rendle, pastor; J. H. Reid, Sunday school superintendent. Public worship at 9:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Morning theme, "What Is Truth?"; evening theme, "Moses, the Man of God." This sermon will be illustrated with sixty beautiful and artistic stereopticon views, descriptive of the career of this remarkable man from his cradle of reeds in the Nile to his dramatic death on Mount Nebo by the hand of God. Everybody is invited to come and bring a silver offering. Sunday school will be held at 10:30 o'clock a. m. Last Sunday was a record breaker in attendance. We expect this week to pass the 100 mark. Miss Eunice Williamson will lead the meeting with the topic, "Helpful Bible Passages." Evening worship at 7:30. Theme of sermon: "The First Commandment or Who Is Your God?" This will be the first of a series of Sunday evening sermons on The Ten Commandments. Those who study these ancient commandments will certainly find they are in no way out of date in the present age.

ILLINOIS WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

Arrangements have been completed among the students and faculty whereby Prof. S. H. Clark of the University of Chicago will give two readings at the College in Music Hall on April 1. In the afternoon he will read "King Lear," and in the evening, "Androcles and the Lion." The college feels very fortunate in being able to bring Professor Clark to the school. Arrangements are being made so that those interested in the work of Mr. Clark may have the privilege of hearing him at one or both of the readings.

Dr. Harker, who is now in New York city attending some educational conferences, is expected to arrive in Chicago early Monday morning, where he will attend some conferences in connection with the Life Service department of the church. The departments of Philosophy and Education and Biology have just ordered some models of portions of the nervous system to be used in connection with the work of these classes.

The English Literature class gave the play "Everyman" Saturday afternoon in the social room. "Noah's Flood" will be given a little later. The time has not been definitely set.

Work in the Physical Training department is progressing nicely. The schedule for the basketball tournament is being worked out. The games this year will be even more closely contested than the previous year.

L. E. Wackerle spent Friday and Saturday in St. Louis getting action on repairs to the elevator armature.

C. W. Hall of Centralia was an interested visitor at the college Friday afternoon.

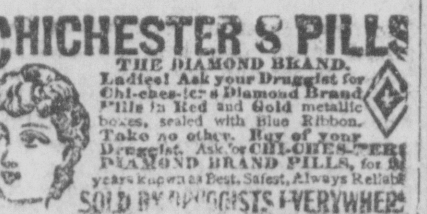

Professor Peters, auditor of the Kansas Wesleyan university at Salina, Kan., was a visitor at the college Monday, Jan. 3. The Kansas Wesleyan has just completed a campaign and raised half a million in connection with its forward movement. This campaign was under the direct supervision of Dr. John W. Fletcher, who is well known and has a number of intimate friends in the city. Professor Peters was investigating the methods used at the college in regard to the collection of endowment funds and other features of the school administration.

Delegates to the State Firemen's convention will be entertained at the college Tuesday afternoon in Music Hall. A splendid program has been provided by the College of Music and School of Expression.

Mr. Louis Kreidler, who will appear here on January 17 at Music Hall, has the distinction of being all American in every sense of the word. He did all of his studying in America with Americans, and few there be that have received such recognition in operatic and concert field. He has always been an advocate of opera in English, his faultless diction being the strongest possible argument in its favor. His routine was given by singing night after night with traveling companies.

Ladies Aid of Woodson Christian church will serve lunch at church basement for J. L. Henry's sale Jan. 12. Every lady requested to bring or send two pies.

Leonard and Cecil Burgess were Saturday visitors from Orleans.

The ULTONA PLAYS ALL RECORDS

an exclusive feature of The Brunswick. It plays all records, whatsoever make, exactly as intended, with the proper diaphragm and needle. At a turn of the hand it is ready. Note its simplicity. And that it is in-built, not an attachment.

The Original All-Record Phonograph Without Attachments

Such is THE BRUNSWICK, and part of its fame is due to this great innovation.

Until the coming of this noted instrument, most Phonograph owners had to be content with a one record instrument. BRUNSWICK made this idea out of date.

There has been many attempts to equal THE BRUNSWICK, but devices and attachments never bring the desired result.

THE ULTONA, as we picture it above, is part of THE BRUNSWICK, in-built. And it plays every record at its best.

Another exclusive feature, is THE BRUNSWICK TONE AMPLIFIER, built entirely of wood. It has no cast-metal throat, as is usual.

This scientific amplifier, built according to acoustic laws, gives truer, richer tone. It reveals hitherto lost shadings.

Hear THE BRUNSWICK before you buy a Phonograph. Note its unequalled tone, its superb cabinet work, its many betterments.

You will hardly believe all the good things they say about THE BRUNSWICK until you, yourself hear it. Come in today.

FIRE HOSE IGNITES UNDER HIGH PRESSURE

Burns When Water is Forced Thru It — National Board of Fire Underwriters are Making Tests in Boston.

Boston—(By The A. P.)—So much public interest has been aroused by the phenomenon developed in tests of fire hose here when flames broke thru cotton coating of the hose thru which water was being forced at high pressure, that the Fire Commissioner, John R. Murphy, has been receiving requests for information from all over the country. Ignition of a fire hose while water was being pumped thru it though no fire was near, is something new to those who consider the fire-fighting business as a science. To determine the cause of this peculiar incident and ascertain how to avoid it, the Boston Fire Department will undertake a series of tests and experiments. Professor Augustus H. Gill, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology at the request of Commissioner Murphy examined the hose burned and, without making a chemical analysis, reported his belief that the hose was ignited from excessive friction caused by vibration between two cotton jackets. The hose was of the new standard two-and-one half inch rubber lined double cotton jacket type, made according to the specifications of the Boston fire department, which conform with those of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

A 750-gallon pumping engine was being tested under the direction of engineers of the National Board of Fire Underwriters and officials of the Boston fire department. For four hours the engine had drawn water from the Charles River Basin when the order for the high pressure test was given.

Two lines of hose were used, one from each side of the engine and each about 300 feet long. Horse gears were placed between the first and second lengths of each line and the gates were choked down to about one-third capacity, the gates on the engine outlets being similarly reduced.

Flames Burst From Hose.
About 15 minutes after the engine was started with a pump pressure of 250 pounds, smoke came from the hose about a foot from the coupling at the engine connection. Investigation showed that the hose was very hot and in a moment flame burst thru the outer covering. Within a minute the same thing happened to the hose on the other side of the engine. It was decided by the chiefs and experts that the choking down of the gates had resulted in a tremendous amount of water being forced through a small opening. The water in passing thru the engine gate instead of filling the hose at the coupling was forced in at an angle, striking one side of the hose with a fine sharp point, with sufficient force to generate heat.

This point of water, together with the friction caused by the two cotton jackets rubbing against each other apparently caused the flame.

The fire did not injure the rubber lining, which was not even charred, the flames working entirely in the cotton mixture. This was scorched for several inches around the burned hole.

The conditions under which the engine was working when the hose ignited were said to be such as would never occur while a fire was being fought and for that reason the fire fighters have only a keen academic interest rather than serious thoughts of their hose burning during a fire unless it comes in contact with flames or sparks.

MISS LAFAYETTE BRIDE OF CHICAGO RESIDENT

Marriage of Miss Elora Lafayette of This City and H. Johnson of Chicago Announced Recently—Marriage Took Place in Chicago Last August.

A number of young people were recently entertained very pleasantly at the home Mrs. Laura Lafayette, 406 East Court street, at which time the marriage of her daughter, Miss Elora Lafayette to H. Johnson of Chicago, was announced. The marriage occurred in Chicago last August, but the friends of the bride in this city were not informed of the fact until a recent gathering. Mrs. Johnson has been a holiday guest at the home of her mother in this city.

Naturally the news of her marriage was a great surprise to the assembled guests, but the congratulations and good wishes were none the less hearty.

Mrs. Johnson was born and reared in this city, graduating from the local high school three years ago, being the only colored person in her class. She had an excellent school record, finishing the course in three years instead of four, and having only missed one half day in all her school course. She is a young woman highly esteemed and of fine qualifications.

After completing her high school course, Mrs. Johnson took a commercial course at Brown's Business college and received a diploma from that institution. She was for some time employed as bookkeeper and stenographer for Dr. A. H. Kennelbrew, and later went to Chicago to become stenographer for the Bach-Medler Co., dealers in dye stuffs. Her career in the big city was a very successful one.

The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Johnson of 3413 Forrest avenue, Chicago. He is an accomplished young man and belongs to one of the well known colored families of Chicago. For three years he has been employed in the post office in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will reside in Chicago, and enter upon their married life with the best wishes of their many friends.

MARKETING OF HORTICULTURAL PRODUCTS.

A timely circular with the above title has just been issued from the Illinois Experiment Station. The author J. W. Lloyd, sold two years in California studying marketing methods employed there in the handling of horticultural products.

"A study, he says, 'of the accomplishments of these organizations indicates that growers' cooperative marketing organizations handling California horticultural products are capable of: 1. Reducing the cost of marketing. 2. Improving the distribution of the products. 3. Increasing the demand for the product. 4. Standardizing the product. 5. Protecting the individual grower."

"A special impetus," continues the author, "was given to formation of fruit growers' cooperative marketing organizations in 1893 (year of financial panic), particularly among orange growers in the southern part of the state." It may be that speculators in wheat and corn and other grains on the Board of Trade and elsewhere are due for as great a jolt as the speculators in California fruit received. The sudden falling of prices of farm products below the cost of production in 1920 may be the necessary impetus to put over or the grains through the country what was put over for horticultural products in California by the panic of 1893.

But hear Prof. Lloyd as to the result of prices and what happened to the middlemen: "Before California growers' cooperative organizations undertook the marketing of the respective products, the law of supply and demand was hampered by its operation because too many middlemen and speculators intervened between the producer and the ultimate consumer. In striving for large profits per unit of goods handled, the middlemen curtailed consumption by making prices high to the consumer and in some cases decreased production by forcing the growers to accept a price below the cost of production. The individual grower, far removed from the real consumer, had little influence upon the price the consumer would pay.  Under the old regime, growers, as individuals, were powerless to change conditions; and conditions did not change of their own accord, for they were controlled by the middlemen. By organization, the growers have been enabled to shift their market on step nearer the consumer, and to obtain some voice in deciding the prices at which they will sell their products. This has made it possible for the growers to realize prices somewhat above the cost of production; but the very nature of their products makes it impossible for them to exact prices not warranted by the relation of the supply to the demand."

Change Tso-Lin, who at present dominates north China military, ordered three of the six machines shipped to him at Mukden. The others were to be sent to Paoingfu for military purposes.

Those destined for Mukden were loaded on flat cars and started northward. Some distance beyond Tientsin they collided with the superstructures of a railway bridge which, along with the machines, was put out of commission. The wreck tied up traffic for a long time.

HAD RIGHT MEDICINE IN TANLAC, SHE SAYS

Springfield Woman States
She Feels Better Than She
Has in Past Three Years
Since Taking It.

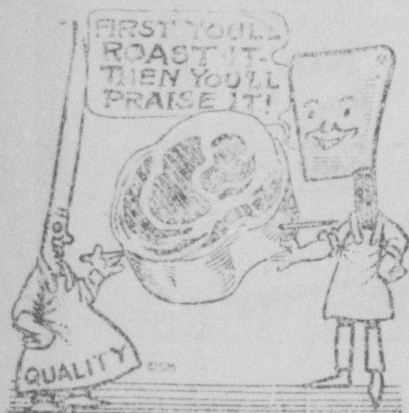

"Yes sir, I feel better today than I have in the last three years, and I owe my splendid condition to Tanlac," said Mrs. May Jones, 1128 Enos Ave., Springfield, Ill.

"For three years before I began taking Tanlac I suffered from bad stomach, terrible headaches, dizzy spells, and severe hurting in my back and over my kidneys. My stomach was in such a bad fix that the lightest roof would cause me terrible pains for hours after eating. After a bad headache I'd be that dizzy I couldn't get about till it wore off, and the dizziness bothered me greatly.

"The hurting in the small of my back was almost constant, and sharp pains would dart all thru me. I had a tired, aching feeling all the time, and got awfully discouraged over my condition. I had tried so many kinds of medicine without getting any relief, that when I read of Tanlac I wondered if it could help me.

"Well, I bought a bottle and began taking it. In just a short time I found I was getting better and kept right on taking it. It is truly surprising how easy it was to get well when I got hold of the right medicine. I feel I owe it to the people who are suffering as I did to tell them what Tanlac did for me."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by Coover Drug Co., Weyre Drug Co., Franklin and Waverly and leading drug stores in all cities. —Adv.

To reproduce the music of a piano is one of the severest tasks you can put to a phonograph. The result is usually decidedly tinkly and weak and reminds you of the nursery and the children's one octave toy piano. That is why we advise you to insist on hearing a piano record, as well as others, before you buy.

SCHOOL CENSUS OF STATE TO BE PRESENTED SOON

Springfield, Ill.—By the A. P.—It costs approximately $58 to educate one student per year in the Illinois public schools, statistics just prepared by William E. White, statistician of the state department of public education, show.

Mr. White expects to have complete statistics within the next month to present a school census of the entire state. The number of children of school age—six to 21 years old—the number of children six years of age and under, and total receipts and disbursements for the entire state school system for the past year will be given.

On the face of questionnaires already received from all parts of the state, Mr. White estimates an increase in enrollment in Illinois public schools of between 5,000 and 6,000 and an increase of about 50,000 children of school age in the state.

In 1919 there were 2,598,628 children in Illinois under 21 years of age; 1,986,267 enrolled in the schools; and 1,766,073 six years of age and under.

Attendance records for 1920 will show a remarkable increase over 1919, Mr. White says.

PASTOR TO TALK ON TEN COMMANDMENTS

Do the ten commandments fit the conditions of today? The pastor of Grace M. E. church thinks so. Beginning with Sunday night Rev. Thos. H. Tull will preach a series of Sunday evening sermons on the Ten Commandments. These laws handed down from remote antiquity still possess their ancient power to search the heart, stir the conscience and awaken man to a sense of his obligation to God and his fellow man. At the close of each of these services an opportunity will be given to ask questions that may be suggested by the sermon or by private study of these ancient fundamental laws. It will be necessary for the questions to be written down and handed to the usher or dropped in the collection plate. In speaking on these questions each speaker will be limited to two minutes. The public cordially invited.

What Happened?

Loose pistons and rings cause loss of power and poor lubrication.

Loss of power makes extravagant and unsatisfactory operation.

Poor lubrication will eventually ruin beyond repair every working part of the motor.

The cylinder bore of a gas motor wears unevenly. Why?

1—Due to ring pressure;

2—Due to expansion and contraction;

3—Due to hard and soft spots in metal.

4—Due to uneven pressure of pistons.

The more the year, the more the tendency to wear.

The cost of grinding the cylinder walls smooth and straight is less than making them smooth and straight any other way.

Over-size pistons cost no more than standard size.

We will grind your block and fit over-size pistons if it needs it. This latter can only be determined after careful measurements.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES

Mr. Pearson, Miss Hay, Miss Miller and Mrs. Forrest spent the Christmas holidays in Chicago attending the meetings of the National Music Teacher's association. Miss Melius also spent the holidays in Chicago.

Miss Melius of the faculty will give her piano recital in Music Hall on Monday evening, Jan. 10. The third recital of the Artist Series will be the song recital of Louis Kreidler, baritone of the Chicago Opera company, in Music Hall Monday evening, Jan. 17. Mr. Kreidler, who has had a wide experience on the stage, is most successful in numbers of a dramatic character. Everyone who has been fortunate enough to have heard his rendition of the Caruso Toreador and Danny Deever have been thrilled beyond words. Quoting from a critic at a recent recital: "If they had known of the hangings of 'Danny Deever' by a real executioner, possessed of a powerful resonant voice, they surely would not have missed the opportunity to have had a part in the execution that of enjoying it. Mr. Kreidler has a powerful voice of great range. His skillful interpretations with easy assurance of artistic authority were especially gratifying. His rendition of the Toreador Song from Carmen and Danny Deever by Dumas, were particularly pleasing because of the greater familiarity of the audience with those compositions."

A short musical program will be presented by the faculty and students of the College of Music in Music Hall, Tuesday afternoon before the State Association of Firemen.

REVISE HONOR ROLL IN GREENE COUNTY

Work Reveals Public's Lack of Regard and Gratitude Toward Nation's Defenders—Government Doing Full Share in Work

WHITE HALL, Jan. 5.—In the work of revising the Roll of Honor for White Hall and vicinity for 1921 there is already revealed a condition of public disregard and ingratitude toward the defenders of the nation that begins to emphasize the truth of the statement that a republic is ungrateful to its defenders. This Roll of Honor was begun early last year, and on Decoration Day was issued in pamphlet form in a manner that received a great amount of praise. It was necessarily limited in the results of the quest for information, as the work was intended to cover all Northern Greene county, including Roodhouse and White Hall, and it was made pretty complete under the circumstances of it being the first thing of the kind ever attempted in this section of the county.

The federal government and the state government are both doing a full share in a cause long neglected. The federal government will furnish headstones for all unmarked graves of soldiers, and prepay the freight to the nearest railroad station or steamboat landing. At this point the state government steps in and offers to pay for carting the headstones to the cemeteries and also pay for erection. This is a public work, and when the various counties are made to understand the situation the county boards may then be induced to provide facilities for compiling a list of the soldiers in every cemetery in the county, together with a statement showing those entitled to government headstones and those already marked.

Fulton Takes Lead. In this work on the part of counties, Fulton county has taken the lead by providing the list of 57 cemeteries in 31 townships, but the great bulk of the counties have done nothing, Greene county being in the nothing class. The work so far accomplished in Northern Greene county has been under the direction of R. B. Pearce, who receives no compensation for his efforts. The state superintendent of records is very desirous that the work be extended throughout all of Greene county, and that the work include the marking of every unmarked grave. This involves action by the county board of supervisors that will compensate some one for doing the work. Dr. James Squire has been looking after this work at Carrollton since the death of Dr. Hays, and the work is well in hand in a local way at Carrollton. In the rural districts over the county, however, the situation is entirely different. For instance, it has always been shown that the one revolutionary grave at White Hall is the only one in Northern Greene county, but on a compilation of nearly all the cemeteries it is found that there are six revolutionary graves in the vicinity of White Hall and only two of these are marked.

Every county should have a thorough record of its soldier graves for incorporation in a volume that is to be issued by the state during the coming year, and along with the work of preparing this record each county should also see to it that every grave is properly marked, a matter that can be accomplished at no expense to the county except the employment of some one to make up the record and look after the delivery of headstones. The printing of the 1920 Roll of Honor was paid by the White Hall Pottery Works, and it was intended to drop the work where it stood until Sykes & Fanning, operating stores at both Roodhouse and White Hall, became sufficiently interested in ordering a revision and completion of the Roll of Honor for these two cities for 1921, but it will be issued in a copyrighted edition by R. B. Pearce, no provision being made for ordering headstones for the unmarked graves that are being recorded by the score.

Only last Sunday a world war veteran was buried in the White Hall cemetery, and it is reported that the relatives are unable to provide a headstone for the grave will go unmarked, unless some one provides a government headstone, for which purpose the county should provide the machinery and facilities through which the relatives can get what it due them from the government. Up at Havana, Mason county, Rev. E. C. Lucas is delivering a series of community lectures this week, and he intends bringing out the subject matter contained in this article with the view of sounding out sentiment in Mason county as to what the county should do and might be induced to do. He returns here to be in position to gauge action in Greene county, and he is more than willing to do this little service on behalf of the soldiery.

Situation in Carrollton. In a letter from Dr. James Squire of Carrollton, the situation is very well presented. Dr. Squire says: "Dr. Hays ordered twelve or fifteen headstones just before he died, from the government, and there are five of them here yet unplaced, and relatives won't place them. I don't know where these soldiers are buried, but not at Carrollton, and there is probably no one now who can find the graves. I have advertised them, but no word from the relatives all. Up to this date I have sent for and placed forty-five government headstones in Carrollton township. I am again in a few days, going to send for ten or twelve more. We lost two comrades in December, the last two members of the 61st Illinois, organized at the fair grounds here February 28th, 1862, and in thirty-six days afterward were in the battle of Shiloh, of whom seventy-five were then and there slain. How is that for 'training'? But the fight was in them. I have only ten members left in this post and two of them are in the Quincy home, and Simpson, a friend, is living in White Hall. I mind that your Capt. E. J. Pearce caused a fine monument to be erected at Andersonville, as I saw it there in 1913. He did a grand thing for the veterans and for the honor of the state of Illinois."

Dr. Squire closes with the statement that he is doing his share of the work solely from patriotic motives, and that he will gladly do all he can to get the work properly organized in the county, as he, like other veterans of the civil war, will soon close their work, and the added recivil work something that will be lost sight of largely if there is not some organized effort in each county to look after it.

"Estate," the Quality Stove

Quality is an overworked word. Almost every dealer in every line claims that his is the real quality product, and the term has thus lost much of its force.

In the case of many manufactured articles, the quality can readily be determined by an examination of the material and workmanship.

Not so with stoves. Almost all makes of stoves are very similar in external appearance—their performance and durability can only be determined by an actual test.

The Estate line has met this test. We are justified in calling it "the quality line."

It is no common thing to hear of an Estate Stove that has been handed down from mother to daughter through three generations and still giving satisfaction.

That's how this stove becomes in truth an "estate," how it has earned its right to the title—

Touching the bottom in men's clothing prices

Tomorrow, this store submits the most important clothes-buying event the men of this community have witnessed in many months. It's the event men have been waiting for--quality suits and overcoats, at Prices that will create the low record of the season.

WE want to erase the past--keep business going and workmen at work. Above all we want to sweep out every bit of clothing bought at high prices and replace it at new, lower prices, fresh, fine spring merchandise.

This is not a sale--it's a "sweep out." We're not sacrificing merchandise--we're practically giving it away to get it out of the house.

Instead of gradually whittling down prices we are making one big chop--and the FINAL CHOP.
